

ROCKMONT'S

Adventure Outreach

In 2007 Rockmont's Adventure Outreach headed south of the equator and made some amazing connections in South America's poorest country, Bolivia. Our Director, Dan Davis will return with a new group to strengthen those connections in 2008.

Faithtrek Bolivia

Who: This trip is open to nine veteran Rockmont campers between the ages of 17 and 19 who meet the physical requirements for expedition travel. Our leaders include Director, Dan Davis; and veteran Adventure Trip Leader, Dave Sperry who has travelled to Bolivia multiple times with youth and college groups.

What: Rockmont has formed a connection with a remarkable camp in Bolivia, Camp Kewiña. Our cross-cultural experience will include work (and play) alongside participants in the Kewiña program, Spanish immersion, as well as opportunities to understand servant-leadership, development and faith in an economically poor community. We will also have at least one or two adventure treks to experience the grandeur of the Bolivian mountains.

When: Our trip officially launches from Miami on June 29th and ends there on July 9th. We will be in Bolivia for at least nine days.

Where: Our adventure starts and ends at in Miami, so please factor transportation to and from the Miami airport into your planning. After some climate and cultural education at the Miami airport we will travel to Cochabamba, Bolivia.

Why: This trip is not about being charitable, it is about being faithful. Participants will be surprised at how much we will add to the good work being done by Bolivians at Camp Kewiña. However, we are convinced that participants will be more surprised at what they each gain in return. This will be a wonderful opportunity to live beyond the barriers of language and culture and explore generosity, trust and faithfulness with a people who have much to teach!

How Much: Each participant must pay $2375.

The fee includes ground transportation and airfare from Miami. Other necessary expenses include passport, immunization, insurance and hiking gear. For more information or to register your interest give Dan Davis a call... 1-888-686-CAMP
